Will the ASP bottom out in 4Q21?

Too early to be positive on ASP

While we have a more positive view on STGT's earnings outlook in 2022-23 following its post-3Q21 results conference call, we maintain our REDUCE call as we think its net profit growth momentum remains in a downtrend. Furthermore, the visibility of its average selling price (ASP) for gloves remains unclear due to the vague demand-supply balance.

Will a 25% q-q ASP drop in 4Q21 be the bottom?

Management believes its ASP will hit the bottom at USD35/1,000 pieces (ptp) in 4Q21, down 25% q-q vs the 36% q-q drop in 3Q21, based on 1) the high costs of natural rubber and nitrile; 2) more benign pricing competition in 2022, as some new suppliers in China have already incurred losses in 3Q21 to gain market share; 3) the USD35/ptp projected ASP is not far above the pre-Covid USD19/ptp ASP; 4) demand growth of 10-15% y-y post-Covid in 2022 onward should outpace supply growth of 10-13% y-y after significant 2021E supply growth of 40% y-y; and 5) the price of PVC gloves, the lowest quality type of glove, has already increased from the bottom price of USD13/ptp in 3Q21 due to the high oil price. In addition, management projects the price gap between nitrile and natural rubber gloves to narrow from over USD60/ptp in 1Q21 down to close to parity by end-2023, similar to the pre-Covid gap of USD1-3/ptp.

Higher sales volumes to partly offset weaker ASP

Management expects the sales volume to rise to 7.5b pieces in 4Q21, up from 7.1b in 3Q21. It still plans to reach 50b pieces in 2022 and 82b pieces in 2024. While STGT maintains its 50% nitrile glove capacity target for 2028, up from 38% in 2021, management is confident that it could switch to produce natural rubber powder-free gloves if the nitrile glove margin shrinks faster than expected. Container shortages and high freight costs are likely to continue in 4Q21 but should subside in 2022.

Not yet a good entry point ahead of weak 4Q21 outlook

We maintain Reduce and believe the downside for its share price remains at THB27-28 due to the sharp drop in ASP and potential EPS downgrades in 2022-23. STGT will retain its minimum 50% payout in 2022 onward after paying a 45% payout in 1H21 and an 81% payout in 3Q21. We believe STGT's net profit growth momentum remains highly challenging in 4Q21-1H22 but should gradually improve in 2H22 when we expect the demand-supply balance to return to normal.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as  $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$ .

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
