In-line 3Q21, record high to come

Soft q-q net profit due to seasonality as expected

SINGER reported an in-line 3Q21 net profit of THB165m (+41% y-y, -10% q-q). The strong y-y bottom line came mainly from solid loan growth of 12.8% q-q, 39% YTD. Its outstanding portfolio as of 3Q21 was at THB9.6b, nearly reaching its 2021 target of THB10b. The q-q decline in its net profit came from the high base of the home and electrical appliance sales in 2Q21. As such, we have no concerns about this. Regarding its asset quality, thanks to its stringent credit underwriting and debt collection processes, the company had healthy asset quality in 3Q21 with a slight rise by 2% q-q in its non-performing loans (NPLs). This implies an NPL ratio of 3.73%.

Substantial loan growth in 3Q21

3Q21 total loan volume rose materially by 12.8% q-q, 39% YTD, supported by a rise in the auto title loan volume by 14%, especially the truck segment. Its clients still need cash to run their businesses and for consumption purposes, in our view. Moreover, a marketing push by offering credit services at customers' workplaces could allow SINGER to reach untapped clients. Regarding hire purchase loans, those also increased in 3Q21 by 7% q-q. Its 3Q21 loan structure was 55% auto title loans and 45% hire purchase loans.

Climbing to the top in 4Q21

We are convinced that SINGER will post a record high net profit in 4Q21, driven by 1) continued strong loan growth, for truck title loans in particular; and 2) an increase in its home appliance sales from the seasonal low in 3Q. On top of that, we think that SINGER will climb a J-curve again next year. We believe that SINGER will utilise the new funds from its recent capital increase effectively. We expect its loan portfolio to jump 63% y-y to THB15.7b in 2022. This would result in a surge in its net profit by 67% y-y. Note that its 2022 EPS might grow at slower rate of 2% y-y thanks to the dilution effect.

Maintain BUY and GGM-based TP of THB51

We reiterate SINGER as one of our top picks in the diversified financial sector. We think that it will deliver strong performance in both the short and long term supported by its unique business model, leading to lower competition and a strong capital base to accelerate its loan portfolio.

Soft q-q net profit due to seasonality as expected

SINGER reported an in-line 3Q21 net profit of THB165m (+41% y-y, -10% q-q). The q-q decline in its net profit came from the high base of the home and electrical appliance sales in 2Q21. However, we are not too concerned over its main businesses, both lending and home and electrical appliance sales. SINGER was able deliver strong performance, with 3Q21 loan growth of 12.8% q-q, 39% YTD. Its outstanding portfolio as of 3Q21 was at THB9.6b, nearly reaching its 2021 target of THB10b. Thanks to its stringent credit underwriting and debt collection processes, the company had healthy asset quality in 3Q21, with a slight rise by 2% q-q in its NPLs. We think SINGER could see a smaller impact from the prolonged Covid spread compared with its peers.

3Q21 key highlights

- 3Q21 total loan volume rose by 12.8% q-q, 39% YTD, supported by a rise in the auto title loan volume by 14%, especially the truck segment. Its clients still need cash to run their businesses and for consumption purposes, in our view. Moreover, a marketing push by offering credit services at customers' workplaces could allow SINGER to reach untapped clients. Regarding hire purchase loans, those also increased in 3Q21 by 7% q-q. Its 3Q21 loan structure was 55% auto title loans and 45% hire purchase loans.
- Its loan yield dropped to 16.5% from 18% in 2Q21. We think this was due to a change in its portfolio mix to emphasise truck title loans.
- 3Q21 home and electrical appliance sales dropped by 6% y-y and 34% q-q due to seasonality and the Covid impact. However, its gross margin improved to 50% vs 48% in 2Q21.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
