- กำไรสุทธิ 4Q21 ของ PTG อาจมีความเสี่ยงขาลงไม่เกิน 0.2-0.3พัน ลบ. จากค่า การตลาดที่อ่อนแอจากนโยบายเพดานราคาน้ำมัน
- ทำไรอาจฟื้นตัวตั้งแต่ 2Q22 เป็นตันไปจากราคาน้ำมันที่คาดว่าจะลดลงและทำไรที่ดีขึ้น จากธุรกิจไบโอดีเซลและธุรกิจที่ไม่ใช่น้ำมัน

กำไรระยะสั้นมีความเสี่ยงขาลงจากการทำธุรกิจแบบ COCO

ในขณะที่เพดานราคาน้ำมันของรัฐบาลได้สิ้นสุดอย่างเป็นทางการไปแล้วในเดือน ต.ค. 21 (มีผล 5-31 ต.ค. 21) ผู้ประกอบกิจการสถานีบริการน้ำมันทั้งหมดรวมถึง PTG ได้ระบุว่า ผู้ประกอบการเต็มใจที่จะปรับราคาไบโอดีเซลขึ้นในอัตราที่ต่ำกว่าต้นทุนที่เพิ่มขึ้นตามคำร้องขอ ของรัฐบาล อย่างไรก็ดี PTG แตกต่างจากคู่แข่งในประเทศรายอื่นตรงที่ว่ากว่า 75% ของ ปริมาณขายรวมของสถานีบริการน้ำมันของบริษัทฯ มาจากไบโอดีเซล ซึ่งทำให้ผลกระทบเชิง ลบจากนโยบายเพดานราคาของรัฐที่มีต่อของบริษัทฯ มีสูงกว่า

คาดค่าการตลาด (Marketing margin) จะลดลงใน 4Q21-1Q22

จาก 3 นโยบายใหม่ที่คณะกรรมการกำกับกิจการพลังงาน (ERC) ประกาศ เราคาดว่ากำไรของ PTG จะได้รับผลกระทบเชิงลบใน 4Q21 ซึ่งอาจกดจัน Marketing margin (MM) และกำไรสุทธิ ของ PTG โดยเราคาดว่า MM อาจยังคงอ่อนแออยู่ในช่วง 1.5-1.6 บาท/ลิตรใน 4Q21 ลดลง จาก 1.7 บาท/ลิตรใน 3Q21 เนื่องจากเราคาดว่าค่า MM ที่ลดลงทุก ๆ 0.1 บาท/ลิตรอาจทำให้ เกิดผลขาดทุนสุทธิ 0.1พัน ลบ. แก่ PTG เราจึงคิดว่ากำไรสุทธิของ PTG ใน 4Q21 อาจมีความ เสี่ยงขาลงไม่เกิน 0.2-0.3พัน ลบ. เว้นแต่ว่ารัฐบาลจะอนุญาตให้ผู้ประกอบกิจการสถานีบริการ น้ำมันปรับเพิ่ม MM ได้

จะดีขึ้นในทกด้านภายใน 2Q22

เราเชื่อว่ารูปแบบธุรกิจที่มีความยืดหยุ่นสูงของ PTG พร้อมโครงสร้างต้นทุนที่ต่ำน่าจะทำให้ กำไรของบริษัทฯ ฟื้นตัวได้ในระดับสูงตั้งแต่ 2Q22 เป็นต้นไปจาก 1) ราคาน้ำมันดิบที่คาดว่าจะ ลดลงต่ำกว่า USD75/bbl ภายใน 2Q22 ซึ่งเป็นระดับที่จะคลี่คลาย MM ของ PTG จากเพดาน ราคาน้ำมันดีเซลที่ 28 บาท/ลิตรจากอุปทานที่เพิ่มขึ้นจากทั้ง OPEC+ และน้ำมันจากชั้น หินดินดานของสหรัฐฯ; 2) กำไรที่ดีขึ้นจากธุรกิจโบโอดีเซลจากราคาน้ำมันปาล์มดิบ (CPO) ที่ ลดลงและความต้องการ B100 ที่สูงขึ้น; และ 3) EBITDA ของธุรกิจที่ไม่ใช่น้ำมันที่ปรับตัวดีขึ้น โดยเฉพาะอย่างยิ่งจากร้านกาแฟ PunThai และ Coffee World ซึ่งเราคาดว่าจะได้ประโยชน์ใน ระดับสูงจากการกลับมาเปิดเศรษฐกิจและนักท่องเที่ยวที่กลับเข้ามายังประเทศไทย

หุ้นสถานีบริการน้ำมันที่มีความยืดหยุ่นสูงที่สุดของไทย

เราคงแนะนำซื้อที่ราคาเป้าหมาย 18.3 บาท (SoTP) ในขณะที่เราหันมามีมุมมองที่ระมัดระวัง มากยิ่งขึ้นเกี่ยวกับแนวโน้มกำไรสุทธิ 4Q21 จากนโยบายเพดานราคาน้ำมันของรัฐ เราคิดว่า กำไรของ PTG จะฟื้นตัวอย่างมีนัยสำคัญในปี 2022 จากความต้องการที่สูงขึ้นและค่า MM ที่ ปรับตัวสูงขึ้น เราคิดว่า PTG ยังเป็นหนึ่งในหุ้นสถานีบริการน้ำมันที่มีความยืดหยุ่นมากที่สุด ของไทยจากการบริหารต้นทุนให้สามารถแข่งขันได้ภายใต้รูปแบบการทำธุรกิจแบบ COCO

Investment thesis

PTG is one of Thailand's leading service station plays, with 2,094 oil and mixed stations at end-2020. We think PTG's growth strategy is sound, focusing on not only volume growth from its existing oil stations and non-oil businesses, but also on backward integration in the methyl ester (ME), or B100, business in order to strengthen its business integration and diversification. We project PTG to have net profit growth of 6.37% CAGR from 2020-23, with improvements in both growth and sustainability thanks to PTG's cost competitiveness, business agility, and a sound growth strategy for horizontal and vertical expansion.

Company profile

PTG is an oil station play in Thailand with backward integration in the biodiesel business, thereby diversifying its business portfolio. PTG's core business is retail fuel sales via its own fuel stations under the name of PT Station, mostly located along secondary roads, with fuel sales to the diesel-based truck segment. PTG's non-oil ventures consist of 1) convenience stores, (PT Max Mart); 2) a coffee house chain (PunThai); and 3) automotive stores (Autobacs).

Catalysts

Key potential net profit catalysts include 1) higher sales volumes; 2) a higher marketing margin; and 3) improving EBITDA from non-oil businesses, such as the convenience store and food & beverage segments.

Risks to our call

The downside risks to our SoTP-based TP include 1) a government cap on oil prices; and 2) weaker demand for diesel and gasoline.

 For every 1% increase in marketing margin, we estimate 2021 earnings would rise by 4.3%, and vice versa, all else being equal.

Triple pressures could turn to triple drivers by 2Q22

While the government's price cap officially ended in Oct-21 (effective 5-31 Oct-21), all oil station operators, including PTG, have indicated that they will raise their biodiesel prices voluntarily at a lower rate than the cost inflation, as requested by the government. However, unlike its local peers, over 75% of PTG's total oil station sales volume is biodiesel, resulting in a more negative impact for PTG from the government's price cap policy.

The following paragraphs are excerpted from our report, "Thailand Energy-Reintroduction of diesel price cap, B7 policy", dated 25 Nov-21, to clarify the ERC's policies. Please note that where they appear, target prices and recommendations for stocks under FSSIA coverage have been updated to 04 Jan-22 for ease of reference.

On 24 Nov-21, the Thai regulator, the ERC, revealed that the agency, after over 10 years, will reintroduce its policies of 1) a diesel price cap at THB28/litre; 2) cut the biodiesel types from three (B7, B10, and B20) to one only (B7) – a blended fuel of 7% crude palm oil (CPO)-based methyl ester (B100) and 93% diesel produced from refineries; and 3) a marketing margin (MM) cap at THB1.4/litre, down by THB0.4/litre. These three policies will be enforced for four months starting from 1 Dec-21 to 31 Mar-22 with the goal of alleviating the cost of living. It is also in response to the request made by truck drivers who demanded a price fixed at THB25/litre for diesel.

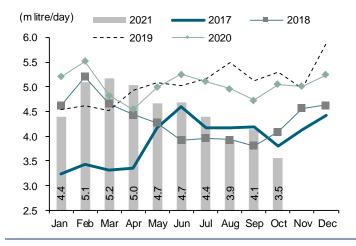

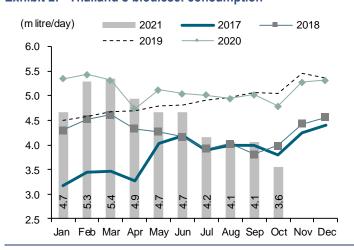

Exhibit 2: Thailand's biodiesel consumption

Source: DOEB

The three reintroduced policies by the ERC for four months are a negative surprise for us and the market, following the ERC's previous mandate of a three-week cap on the THB30/litre diesel price and THB1.4/litre MM in Oct-21. We estimate that the impact from these three policies will be significant for downstream oil station operators. PTG, as a pure play and with its less diversified business portfolio, will likely feel the hardest pinch, followed by Bangchak Corporation (BCP TB, BUY, TP THB38), Susco (SUSCO TB, BUY, TP THB3.5), Esso Thailand (ESSO TB, HOLD, TP THB8.9), and PTT Oil and Retail Business (OR TB, BUY, TP THB36), from the most to least impacted companies, in our estimation.

Impacts from the new policies. Rather than cutting any of the multiple taxes imposed on the prices of fuels, including diesel, the ERC has instead chosen to push the burden onto private oil station operators. Based on the retail price of diesel on 24 Nov-21 at THB28.8/litre for B7 and THB28.7/litre for B10, the aggregate taxes account for 26.1% of the B7 price and 24.7% of B10, while the ex-refinery price accounts for 61.9% of B7 and 62.1% of B10. The MM represents only 5.6-5.9% of the total retail price of B7 and B10.

Price as of 24 November 2021 Source: Energy Planning and Policy Office (EPPO) Price as of 24 November 2021 Source: EPPO

The ERC has decided to reduce the diesel price by putting the subsidy cost on the shoulders of the private oil station operators, including:

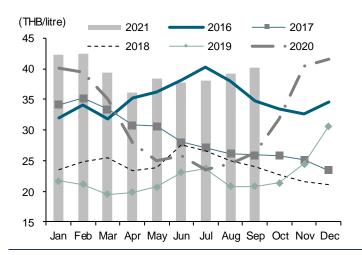

- 1) A lower MM by THB0.4/litre, which could reduce earnings by THB0.2b-0.4b per quarter for oil station plays.
- 2) Cutting the demand for B100 by 1-4% in 4Q21-1Q22, the period when only B7 will be supplied and the production of B10 and B20 will be cut, effectively eliminating the demand for B100 by 70m litres in 4Q21 and 250m litres in 1Q22, based on our estimates. The main reason to cut the B100 blending into the biodiesel price for B7 is due to the currently high prices of CPO at THB43/kg and B100 at THB40/litre much higher than the ex-refinery price of diesel at THB20-21/litre. Hence, the reduction in the B100 blend could reduce the price of biodiesel by THB0.4/litre, based on our estimate.
- 3) The THB28/litre diesel price cap implies a USD80-82/bbl Brent crude price range. We think the THB31-34/USD currency exchange rate could still pose a downside risk for oil station operators' earnings if the Brent crude price spikes further.

From the three new policies announced by the ERC, we expect to see a negative impact on PTG's earnings in 4Q21, which could pressure PTG's MM and earnings in three ways:

1) Pressure on oil stations

PTG faced a highly unfavourable MM decline when the government's price cap on diesel at THB30/litre officially ended in Oct-21 (effective 5-31 Oct-21), along with the lower demand due to flooding in the provinces. Hence, we estimate that PTG's MM remained weak in the range of THB1.2-1.3/litre in Oct-21.

Starting in November, we believe PTG's oil sales volume began to rebound meaningfully, driven by a demand recovery for both oil stations and the commercial segment following the easing of the lockdown, the reopening of the economy, and the resumption of tourism.

However, on 25 Nov-21, the government's indirect mandate called for the diesel price cap to last until at least the end of 2021 at THB28/litre. Consequently, we project PTG to continue to see weak profits in Nov-21 and Dec-21, as its capped MM will likely outweigh the impact of the higher demand for PTG's oil stations and non-oil businesses from the economic reopening.

Exhibit 9: Net profit vs marketing margin

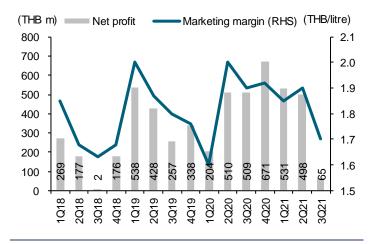

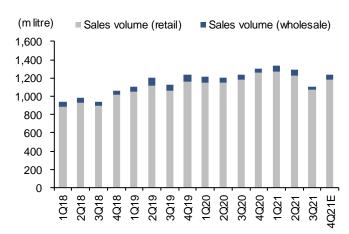

Exhibit 10: Sales volume breakdown

Source: PTG; FSSIA estimates Sources: PTG; FSSIA estimates

We expect PTG's MM could remain weak in the range of THB1.5-1.6/litre in 4Q21, down from THB1.7/litre in 3Q21. As every THB0.1/litre lower MM could result in a THB0.1b net loss for PTG, based on our calculation, we think PTG's net profit in 4Q21 could see a downside of up to THB0.2b-0.3b unless the government allows oil station operators to increase their MMs.

2) Pressure on biodiesel

With the prices of palm and crude palm oil (CPO) rising sharply in 3Q-4Q21, PTG, unlike other local peers with a longer inventory period, has suffered from the higher CPO cost due to its very low inventory days. Hence, PTG should not see any inventory gain from the price hike but rather suffer from the higher CPO cost.

Exhibit 13: Palm price

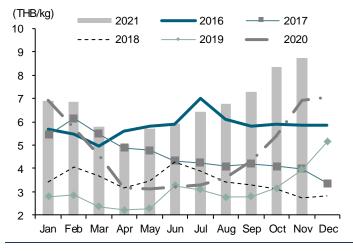

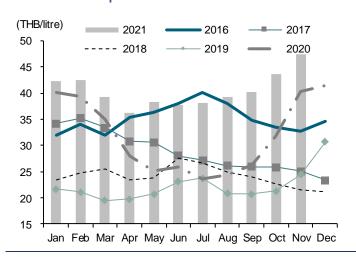

Exhibit 14: B100 price

Source: DIT Source: BCP

The sharp rise in the CPO feedstock price should remain until 1Q22, and then the CPO price should begin to subside in 2Q22 due to the likely higher palm and CPO supplies in Thailand, Malaysia, and Indonesia, if the economic reopening allows the palm harvest to accelerate after a complete halt during 2020.

Exhibit 15: CPO price - Thailand

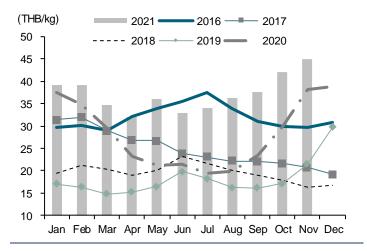

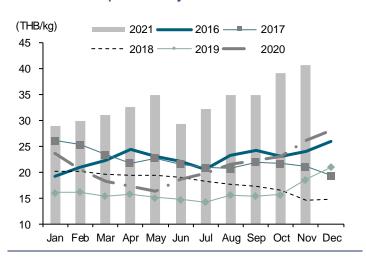

Exhibit 16: CPO price - Malaysia

3) Pressure on non-oil EBITDA

We believe that the key culprit for PTG's non-oil slump is the resurgence of Covid-19, leading to a drop in sales for its non-oil businesses due to the prolonged lockdown, especially for Coffee World stores which are mostly located in airports.

Exhibit 17: Number of stores – PunThai

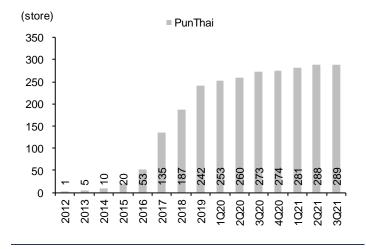

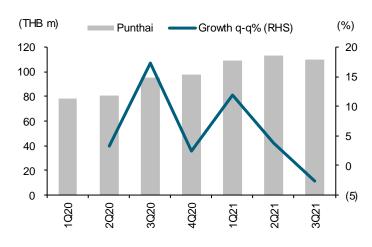

Exhibit 18: Sales and sales growth – PunThai

For PunThai, PTG increased its sales volume through deliveries, and it has come closer to the breakeven level of 100 cups sold per day in 4Q21. However, for Coffee World, EBITDA remained at a loss in 4Q21 given that most of its coffee sales volume is from branches inside airports, which remain in the doldrums due to the sparse number of foreign tourists.

Exhibit 19: Number of stores - Coffee World

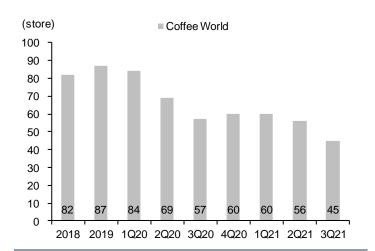

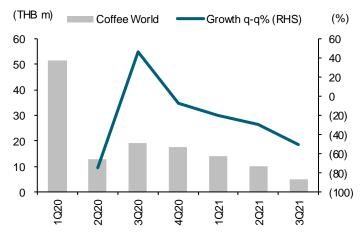

Exhibit 20: Sales and sales growth - Coffee World

Source: PTG Source: PTG

Max Mart, PTG's own flagship convenience store (CVS) chain, has seen its revenue flatten in 9M21 due to the multiple lockdowns despite the branch expansion to 250 branches at the end of 3Q21.

We expect the sales recovery to accelerate in 4Q21 into 2022 thanks to Thailand's economic reopening, which should lead to rising net profit contributions from the Max Mart venture to PTG, based on our estimate.

Exhibit 21: Number of stores – Max Mart

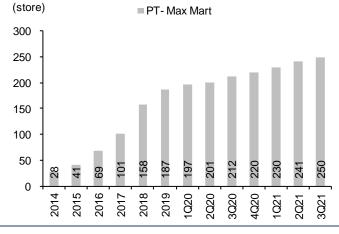

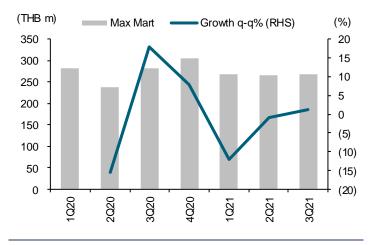

Exhibit 22: Sales and sales growth – Max Mart

Triple drivers through 2022

Starting in 2Q22, we project that PTG's earnings should improve its net profit growth momentum via three key drivers:

Driver #1: The decreasing price trend of crude oil

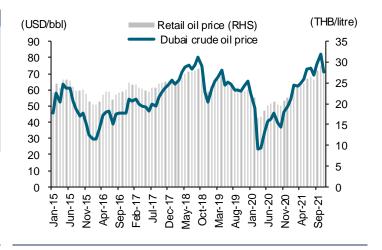

We expect PTG to be able to capture the margin or at least maintain its earnings, if the oil price gradually declines toward the range of USD70-75/bbl, resulting in a retail oil price of THB28/litre, based on our calculation. We think this could offset the incurred losses during the government price cap during Oct-21.

We expect the oil price to stay above USD75-85/bbl in 4Q21, supported by the limited supply increase from OPEC+ and the slow rise in US shale oil production. However, we project that the oil price should start to soften q-q down to USD60/bbl by Mar-Apr 2022, and may enter a downtrend in 2H22 as a result of higher supplies from US shale oil and OPEC+. Our oil price assumptions are USD72/68/68 per bbl for 2021-23 for Dubai and USD75/70/70 per bbl for Brent oil.

The following paragraphs are excerpted from our report, "Thailand Oil & Gas - Finding winners amidst oil & gas price uptrend", dated 23 Sep-21, to clarify our oil price view.

Our oil price view is much less positive than that of OPEC and the Energy Information Administration (EIA), since we project the demand growth to be mostly matched by the supply growth from both US shale oil producers and OPEC+. We think the supply growth from US shale oil producers and OPEC+ will rise at a faster rate than OPEC+ and the EIA project.

Exhibit 25: World crude oil demand by Statista

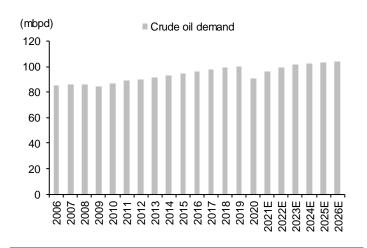

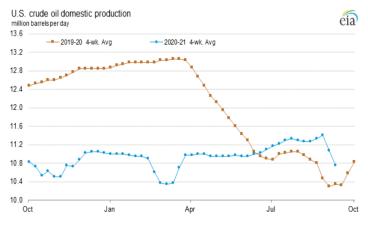

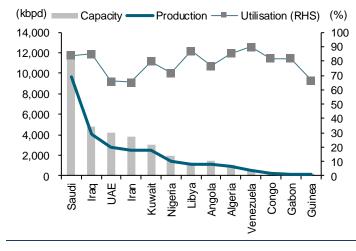

Exhibit 26: US crude oil production

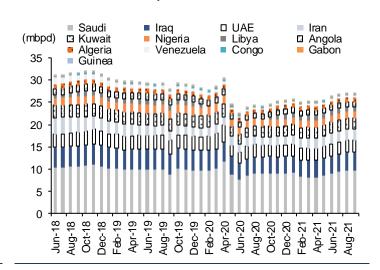

Source: EIA Source: EIA

According to OPEC, the global oil demand is projected to surpass the supply by 1-2mbpd in 2H22, potentially driving the oil price higher or at least sustaining it at a high level above USD70/bbl in 4Q21. OPEC's oil production has been cut significantly since May-20, dropping from 30-31mbpd down to 23-26mbpd during May-20 to Sep-21, leading the oil price to rise and stay above USD70/bbl since Jun-20.

Exhibit 27: OPEC crude oil capacity, production, and utilisation

Exhibit: OPEC crude oil production

Source: EIA Source: EIA

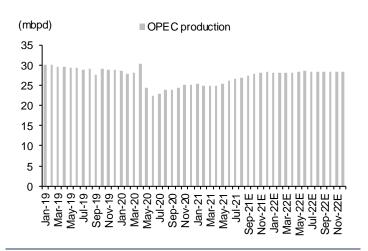

However, starting from Aug-21 and lasting until May-22, according to OPEC+, the group has decided to gradually raise its oil production level by 0.4mbpd monthly. This, in our view, will effectively put a cap on the global oil price upside at below USD80/bbl, even though we project demand to recover back to the pre-Covid-19 level at over 100mbpd by mid-2022.

We also believe that if the global oil demand is stronger than expected and exceeds the supply increase in 2022, OPEC would still have a sufficient capacity surplus of over 6mbpd to fill any demand-supply gap left by other oil producers. As a result, we see a limited oil price upside in 2022-23 and expect a contango oil price curve during the same period, declining from the current USD70-75/bbl down to the USD55-65/bbl level in the next 24 months.

After several years of building its brand awareness, PTG has started to expand into Bangkok and metropolitan areas to capture higher sales volumes of higher-margin gasoline and enhance its profitability, which accounted for 29% of PTG's total sales volume in 2020, up from 23% in 2011.

PTG is also selectively adding its non-oil businesses into its stations to increase customer traffic, including CVS, coffee shops, marts, auto-part shops and LPG, emphasising its one-stop service value proposition to clients.

Exhibit 30: Sales volume breakdown by product

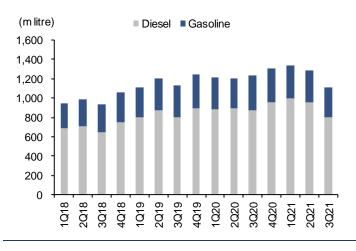

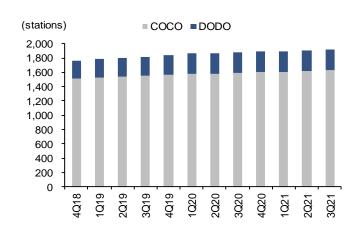

Exhibit 31: Number of stations, breakdown by business type

Driver #2: Sustainable biodiesel earnings

Its biodiesel associate should generate sustainable earnings for PTG in the range of THB0.3b annually, based on our estimate, thanks to the high demand for biodiesel due to the government's promotional campaign. The demand for diesel should rebound strongly in 4Q21 onward due to an improving Covid-19 situation in Thailand and a higher CPO price due to the improving demand-supply balance.

According to PTG's management, PTG has postponed its capacity expansion due to the unpredictable nature of government policy. Consequently, PTG plans to instead diversify into oleo chemicals, a downstream business from biodiesel, which should provide higher margins and more sustainable earnings.

Driver #3: From a 'bitter coffee' world to a 'sweet toffee' world

In 4Q21, according to management, Pun Thai has seen its EBITDA reaching breakeven, and expects it to rise further in 2022 to reach PTG's target of a 30-40% proportion of its total EBITDA by 2024.

For Coffee World, we believe a gradual increase in the number of tourists to Thailand should lead to much-improved EBITDA. Management expects EBITDA to hit breakeven by mid-2022, with the chain likely turning profitable in 2H22 thanks to a higher number of cups sold and the new products that PTG intends to introduce into the cafés to gain higher sales per day.

Time to bottom fish ahead of an earnings recovery

While we project PTG's net profit to meaningfully recover in 2Q22, we believe its share price has priced in the earnings and margin downsides due to the MM squeeze, which should be offset by rising sales volumes that are likely to continue in 2022.

We maintain BUY and our SoTP-based target price of THB18.3. We believe PTG's earnings recovery will be the most resilient among local oil station plays in Thailand, given its high fixed cost structure (large proportion of company-owned, company-operated (COCO) stations), high sales volumes (ranked 2nd in Thailand currently), and promising EBITDA growth from its non-oil businesses, particularly the food and beverage-based PunThai and Coffee World café chains.

Disclaimer:

The disclosure of the Anti-Corruption Progress Indicators of a listed company on the Stock Exchange of Thailand, which is assessed by Thaipat Institute, is made in order to comply with the policy and sustainable development plan for the listed companies of the Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Thaipat Institute made this assessment based on the information received from the listed company, as stipulated in the form for the assessment of Anti-corruption which refers to the Annual Registration Statement (Form 56-1), Annual Report (Form 56-2), or other relevant documents or reports of such listed company. The assessment result is therefore made from the perspective of Thaipat Institute that is a third party. It is not an assessment of operation and is not based on any inside information. Since this assessment is only the assessment result as of the date appearing in the assessment result, it may be changed after that date or when there is any change to the relevant information. Nevertheless, FSS International Investment Advisory Company Limited does not confirm, verify, or certify the accuracy and completeness of the assessment results.

Note: Companies participating in Thailand's Private Sector Collective Action Coalition Against Corruption programme (Thai CAC) under Thai Institute of Directors (as of June 24, 2019) are categorised into: 1) companies that have declared their intention to join CAC, and; 2) companies certified by CAC.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as (target price* - current price) / current price.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.

Industry Recommendations

Overweight. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be positive over the next 12 months.

Neutral. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be maintained over the next 12 months.

Underweight. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be negative over the next 12 months.

Country (Strategy) Recommendations

Overweight (O). Over the next 12 months, the analyst expects the market to score positively on two or more of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.

Neutral (N). Over the next 12 months, the analyst expects the market to score positively on one of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.

Underweight (U). Over the next 12 months, the analyst does not expect the market to score positively on any of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.
