Big acid test ahead in 2Q22

- We project 1Q22 revenue to show RS's first profit in the past three quarters.
- We still need to see sales progress for its new products, U-life and Popcoin, in 2Q22.
- Maintain BUY on the bottomed-out theme.

More first-run TV shows lead entertainment business revival

While RS's commerce revenue in 1Q22 may continue to slide due to Covid and the weak economic recovery to THB472m (-5% q-q, -29% y-y), the improvement in its entertainment businesses, especially TV, which we expect to surge to THB275m (+8% y-y, +59% q-q) after the company broadcasts more first-run TV programs, should help the company's revenue in 1Q22 to grow by 15% q-q to THB845m.

Cost optimisation

We think the key drivers for improvements in RS's profit are higher revenue growth, as well as 1) an expected increase in its GPM to 47.3% in 1Q22 vs 36.8% in 4Q21; and 2) the expectation of a continuous decline in its marketing expenses since 2Q21. We expect that RS's 1Q22 financial performance could finally show a return to profitability at THB42m after its THB66m loss in 4Q21.

2Q22 will be the defining quarter

RS faces an acid test in 2Q22 as that will be the quarter when all of the plans to improve its performance will be executed, including 1) the consolidation of the direct-selling business U-life; 2) the expectation that Popcoin, RS's digital token, will be listed on the Bitkub exchange; 3) the launch of its new functional drinks, including its hemp and CBD products; 4) the finalisation of its deal with Specialty, an OEM supplier; and 5) the recovery of its commerce business. Although RS's 1Q21 earnings may account for only 7% of our full-year forecast, we are awaiting more earnings data, possibly in the next quarter, before we undertake another earnings forecast revision.

Maintain BUY with the same TP of THB21

If RS can successfully execute all of its 2Q22 projects, we believe its share price will recover significantly as its earnings could bounce back to their peak. However, there are still some key challenges and risks, and the projects may not meet RS's expectations. We think this would leave RS's share price stuck in the doldrums because it would show that current operations remain weak. However, we maintain our BUY call on RS as we believe its earnings have already bottomed out in 2021. Even if the projects are a mixed bag, any gains would help its earnings.

Investment thesis

RS is an organisation that conducts business through “opportunity,” by focusing on market leadership, continual investment to sustain its commerce business, and expansions to its related businesses. We expect the contributions from its new businesses to increase significantly, strengthening the company’s total revenue.

With various sales channels via TV, online, retail, exclusive distribution networks (EDN), and direct sales, RS has an advantage in sales channels over its peers.

Company profile

RS operates a commerce business that provides content and powerful entertainment and also sells products. This includes establishing a system to analyse customer data and a telemarketing system.

Catalysts

- New product lines should be able to boost its commerce revenue as well as its bottom line;
- The new “entertainment” strategy may help the company’s revenue grow continuously;
- Growth in associate companies like Chase and Specialty.

Risks to our call

The key downside risk to our SoTP-based TP is based on the company potentially failing to maintain the growth momentum of its commerce business if revenues from TV, radio, and music continue to decline.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
