1Q22 net profit was rescued by a divestment gain

BPP's 1Q22 core net profit (NP) was THB454m, up 128% q-q. 1Q22 NP came in at THB2.9b (+687% q-q), missing our estimate by 4% and Bloomberg's consensus estimate by 3%. The key factors were: 1) a net loss of THB83m from BLCP due to a planned shutdown and an FX loss of THB187m; 2) a THB183m NP from the CHP plants in China despite the higher coal price; 3) THB642m in equity income from the Hongsa power plant (HPC), down 34% q-q due to a 44-day planned shutdown of Unit 2, and a THB131m FX gain; 4) a net loss of THB254m from Shan Xi Lu Guang due to the higher coal cost; 5) an NP of THB238m from the Nakoso power plant; and 6) a THB2.7b share of profit from Banpu Next (not listed), driven mainly by the one-time gain of THB2.8b from the divestment of Sunseap.

Two down (BLCP and HPC) and two up (Nakoso and Temple I)

Under BPP's current portfolio of power plant assets, the once-lucrative power plants HPC and BLCP saw weaker NPs due to the planned shutdown and the structural decline in their availability payments as both power plants are now passing their earnings peaks toward the end of their power purchase agreements. Meanwhile, the performances of the power plants in China were mixed, with CHP staying profitable but SLG suffering a net loss caused by the higher coal cost. The new Nakoso and Temple I power plant projects are now expected to contribute a THB250-300m net profit quarterly to BPP, based on our estimate.

Stronger net profit ahead

We expect strong core earnings in 2022 from the acquired Nakoso and Temple I power plants, along with the new wind farm projects in Vietnam (30MW), to offset the weaker earnings from HPC, BLCP, and SLG, which we expect to continue to see net losses in 2Q22 due to the high coal cost. The divestment of Sunseap is unlikely to have a meaningful impact on BPP's net profit given its small contribution.

Strategic growth projects to sustain earnings

We maintain BUY and our SoTP-based TP of THB20 and expect BPP's ongoing business transformation to sustain its earnings while allowing it to raise its "green" NP proportion toward 20% in 2022 vs 13% in 2020.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
