Specialty transformation by 2025

- We expect IRPC's NP growth and sustainability to improve, backed by its growth strategy to increase its specialty chemical products.
- By 2025, IRPC expects to reduce its overall cost structure to USD10/bbl and increase its GIM by USD1-2/bbl.
- Maintain REDUCE with our TP of THB3.

Positive outlook in long term but negative outlook in short term

While in the long term, we expect IRPC's net profit growth and sustainability to improve via its strategy to increase its specialty chemical product proportion from 22% of the total polymer sales volume in 2021 to 52% by 2025, we think that in the short term in 2022, IRPC's earnings outlook remains weak. The high crude premium and weak industry margins of lube, olefins, and aromatics, which should be partly offset by a stronger gross refining margin, are a drag on its profit. Hence, we think it is too early to turn positive on IRPC's share price in the next six months.

Targeting 52% specialty chemical production by 2025

IRPC plans to invest USD2.5b in 2022-25 to add new specialty product capacity, aiming to increase its specialty product EBITDA from THB17b in 2021 to THB35b in 2025, with THB1.5b in capex for four specialty projects. These include 1) 1.2ktpa of acetylene black for lithium batteries (COD in 1Q27); 2) the ABS full agglomeration project to scale up the current ABS capacity using agglomeration technology (4Q25); 3) global hygiene – spunbond expansion project to enhance the specialty portion (1Q24); and 4) global hygiene – meltblown expansion project (3Q22). In 1Q22, IRPC sold 450kt of petrochemical products, of which 22% or 100kt were specialty products which command an EBITDA margin of up to USD50-200/t higher than commodity-grade products.

To become a specialty-driven producer by 2025

By 2025 when all four specialty chemical projects are scheduled for completion, IRPC expects to reduce its overall cost structure from USD11/bbl currently down to USD10/bbl and increase its gross integrated margin by USD1-2/bbl. This should structurally transform IRPC from a commodity-driven company with ¼ of chemical EBITDA from specialty chemical products to a specialty-focused company with over 40% of chemical EBITDA from specialty products, based on our estimate.

Maintain REDUCE; too early to enter

While we like IRPC's long-term strategy to transform itself into a specialty-driven chemical firm by 2025, in 2022 we think IRPC's margins will be pressured by the downcycle margins of polyolefins and styrenic downstream products, which combined contributed ¼ of GIM in 1Q22.

Disclaimer:

The disclosure of the Anti-Corruption Progress Indicators of a listed company on the Stock Exchange of Thailand, which is assessed by Thaipat Institute, is made in order to comply with the policy and sustainable development plan for the listed companies of the Office of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Thaipat Institute made this assessment based on the information received from the listed company, as stipulated in the form for the assessment of Anti-corruption which refers to the Annual Registration Statement (Form 56-1), Annual Report (Form 56-2), or other relevant documents or reports of such listed company. The assessment result is therefore made from the perspective of Thaipat Institute that is a third party. It is not an assessment of operation and is not based on any inside information. Since this assessment is only the assessment result as of the date appearing in the assessment result, it may be changed after that date or when there is any change to the relevant information. Nevertheless, FSS International Investment Advisory Company Limited does not confirm, verify, or certify the accuracy and completeness of the assessment results.

Note: Companies participating in Thailand's Private Sector Collective Action Coalition Against Corruption programme (Thai CAC) under Thai Institute of Directors (as of June 24, 2019) are categorised into: 1) companies that have declared their intention to join CAC, and; 2) companies certified by CAC.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as  $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$ .

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.

Industry Recommendations

Overweight. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be positive over the next 12 months.

Neutral. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be maintained over the next 12 months.

Underweight. The analyst expects the fundamental conditions of the sector to be negative over the next 12 months.

Country (Strategy) Recommendations

Overweight (O). Over the next 12 months, the analyst expects the market to score positively on two or more of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.

Neutral (N). Over the next 12 months, the analyst expects the market to score positively on one of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.

Underweight (U). Over the next 12 months, the analyst does not expect the market to score positively on any of the criteria used to determine market recommendations: index returns relative to the regional benchmark, index sharpe ratio relative to the regional benchmark and index returns relative to the market cost of equity.
