2Q22 results came in as expected

TIDLOR posted a 2Q22 net profit of THB981m (+26% y-y, +4% q-q), which was in line with our expectations and the Bloomberg consensus estimate. Its 1H22 net profit accounts for 51% of our 2022 net profit forecast.

Solid loan growth and higher fee income drove 2Q22 performance

The solid net profit was driven by 1) strong loan growth of 28% y-y and 8% q-q following ample demand from the resumption of business activity and high inflation; and 2) an increase in its insurance brokerage fee income y-y and q-q. We think strong revenue growth offset a rise in TIDLOR's expected credit loss (ECL) following an increase in non-performing loans (NPLs) and its conservative strategy of setting aside special provisions to provide a cushion against future uncertainties. NPLs rose moderately by 20% q-q in 2Q22, implying an NPL ratio of 1.4% from 1.3% in 1Q22, thanks to the end of the forbearance program. However, we have little concern about asset quality due to its stringent credit underwriting and sufficient provisions. TIDLOR still had a high coverage ratio at 270% in 2Q22.

Expect 2H22 net profit to rise y-y, but be relatively stable h-h

In 2H22, we expect TIDLOR's net profit to increase continuously y-y, driven by 1) a rise in its loan volume from ample loan demand; and 2) an increase in insurance fee income from the low base due to Covid last year. However, net profit might drop h-h from a rise in OPEX due to seasonality and a delay in its IT investment, and a higher provisioning setup. Due to the slow economic recovery and high inflation, we believe its NPLs should be on a rising trend. Also, TIDLOR will implement a conservative policy to set aside extra provisions.

Maintain BUY with a 2023 GGM-based TP of THB37

We maintain our BUY call with a 2023 GGM-based TP of THB37 on TIDLOR due to 1) its stringent asset quality control and highest coverage ratio among auto title lenders; 2) its strong insurance brokerage business; and 3) its strategy to not engage in price wars but instead use unique product strategies, e.g. TIDLOR cash card, to take on competitors.

Strong top line drove 2Q22 performance

TIDLOR posted a 2Q22 net profit of THB981m (+26% y-y, +4% q-q), which was in line with our expectation and the Bloomberg consensus. The solid net profit was driven by 1) strong loan growth of 28% y-y and 8% q-q following ample demand from the resumption of business activity and high inflation; and 2) an increase in its insurance brokerage fee income y-y and q-q. Strong revenue growth offset a rise in TIDLOR's ECL following an increase in NPLs and its conservative strategy of setting aside special provisions to provide a cushion against future uncertainties. NPLs rose moderately by 20% q-q in 2Q22, implying an NPL ratio of 1.4%, up from 1.3% in 1Q22, thanks to the end of the forbearance program. However, we have little concern about asset quality due to its stringent credit underwriting and sufficient provisions. TIDLOR still had a high coverage ratio at 270% in 2Q22.

2Q22 highlights

- NII went up by 28% y-y and 8% q-q following a rise in its loan volume and a higher NIM at 16.1%, up from 16% in 1Q22, due to its efficient cost of funds management and a higher mix of high yield loans in its portfolio.
- Cost to income ratio was at 55% from better cost control and the delay of its IT investment to 2H22.
- NPL formation rate rose to 2.3% from 1.4% in 1Q22, based on our calculation.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTURE

Stock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
