Disappointing 3Q22 results

- DTAC reported its core profit in 3Q22 at THB499m (-9% q-q, -25% y-y) due to the weak economic outlook and fierce competition.
- DTAC's management had no comment regarding the regulator's approval of its proposed amalgamation with TRUE.
- Maintain BUY with the same TP of THB55.50.

Weak 3Q22 results

DTAC's core profit in 3Q22 fell significantly to THB499m (-9% q-q, -25% y-y) due to 1) the slow macroeconomic recovery; 2) fierce competition; and 3) slightly higher expenses. The key extra items for this quarter include 1) costs related to the amalgamation with True Corporation (TRUE TB, BUY, TP THB5.40) of THB160m; and 2) an insurance claim of THB170m. Its core profit at THB499m was 27% lower than the Bloomberg consensus expectation of THB685m.

Weak subscriber growth and ARPU

Although the number of subscribers continued to increase by 3.8% q-q to 21.05m subs, postpaid subs, however, fell by 0.9% q-q, the highest decrease in the past two years. The company attributed this to the weak economic outlook and intense competition, which is forcing a consumer shift from postpaid to prepaid. Moreover, its blended average revenue per user (ARPU) fell 3.5% q-q – the highest drop since 2008 – to THB222 vs THB230. As a result, DTAC's service revenue in 3Q22 excluding interconnection costs remained flat at THB13.9b as operating costs increased q-q due to higher electricity costs and network expansion.

Earnings revision may be in the works

DTAC's 9M22 core profit at THB1,783m accounted for only 50% of our full year forecast of THB3,551m. Furthermore, as we see only limited signs of an earnings recovery for the mobile industry as well as DTAC in 4Q22, we think there is a chance that DTAC's earnings for 2022 could be a lot lower than last year. We are now waiting for TRUE's 3Q22 results in mid-Nov-22 before revising our earnings forecast and target price (TP) given that both DTAC and TRUE's earnings forecasts and TPs for 2023 are already based on the Mergerco's performance.

Maintain BUY with the same TP of THB55.50

Although DTAC's 3Q22 earnings were weaker than expected, there is still some potential upside from its tender offer price at THB47.76 ahead of the process expected in mid Nov-22. Note that DTAC's management will be unable to comment regarding the rules and conditions of its amalgamation with TRUE after the official announcement from the National Broadcasting and Telecommunications Commission (NBTC). Maintain BUY with the same TP of THB55.50.

RECOMMENDATION STRUCTUREStock ratings

Stock ratings are based on absolute upside or downside, which we define as $(\text{target price}^* - \text{current price}) / \text{current price}$.

BUY (B). The upside is 10% or more.

HOLD (H). The upside or downside is less than 10%.

REDUCE (R). The downside is 10% or more.

Unless otherwise specified, these recommendations are set with a 12-month horizon. Thus, it is possible that future price volatility may cause a temporary mismatch between upside/downside for a stock based on market price and the formal recommendation.

* In most cases, the target price will equal the analyst's assessment of the current fair value of the stock. However, if the analyst doesn't think the market will reassess the stock over the specified time horizon due to a lack of events or catalysts, then the target price may differ from fair value. In most cases, therefore, our recommendation is an assessment of the mismatch between current market price and our assessment of current fair value.
