ASSETWISE (ASW TB) - Potential 2Q24 record high profit; Maintain BUY TP THB9.50

Expect 2Q24 net profit to jump 95% q-q and 219% y-y

We forecast 2Q24 net profit to surge by 95% q-q and 219% y-y, hitting a record high at THB500m, close to our previous estimate. Excluding a share premium of THB80m from signing one JV project named Modiz Vault Kaset-Sripatum (THB2.2b), the core profit should be THB420m (+64% q-q, +168% y-y). The strong anticipated growth should come from three newly built condos with a healthy margin. Additionally, SG&A to sales should drop to 20% (vs 26% in 1Q24 and 28% in 2Q23) following lower new launches.

2Q24E transfers growth, led by three newly built condos

We project 2Q24 transfers to come in at THB2.3b (+41% q-q, +96% y-y), driven by the completion of three new condos, such as Kave Town Island (THB3.2b, 98% sold), with expected transfers of cTHB1b (44% of 2Q24E transfers). Also, ASW has started to transfer others, including the Title Halo 1 in Phuket (THB1.5b, 91% sold) and Kave Universe Bangsaen (THB520m, 81% sold). We expect a consistently robust property gross margin of 43% (vs 42.5% in 1Q24 and 42.7% in 2Q23) on transfers from new condo projects, especially the Kave brand.

Strong earnings momentum anticipated in 3Q24

Assuming in-line results, 1H24 core profit would equal THB676m (+106% y-y), accounting for 60% of our full-year forecast. We have a positive view on ASW's 3Q24 earnings outlook with expected q-q and y-y growth, led by continued transfers of the three new condos from 2Q24 plus a newly built one: Kave Pop Salaya (THB500m, 47% sold). Moreover, ASW has signed a new JV project named Kave Genesis Nakhonpathom (THB1.2b), which should result in an extra gain from share premium.

Maintain BUY call with our TP of THB9.5

We maintain our 2024E core profit of THB1.1b, which does not include two potential JV projects and extra gains of THB150-200m, implying a jump of 37% y-y, higher than the property sector's 2024E earnings weakness of 11% y-y. In the short term, ASW has support from its 2Q24 q-q and y-y profit growth projection, beating peers' y-y weakness. The stock traded at 6x 2024E P/E, its historical average -2SD. Moreover, we anticipate the stock to offer a yield of 7% p.a. (paid annually). Hence, we reiterate our BUY rating and TP of THB9.5.

KRUNG THAI BANK (KTB TB) - Key takeaways from analyst meeting; Maintain BUY TP THB19.90

The critical focus of KTB's analyst meeting on August 2 was 1) its manageable asset quality despite rising concerns about retail housing loans and 2) the outlook for operating results in 2H24.

We retain our 2024-26 forecast with growth at 3.2% CAGR and our BUY call for its competitive advantage in the government and related segments to drive growth, combined with an attractive dividend yield of c5-6% p.a. and our GGM-based TP of THB19.90, implying a P/BV of 0.65x (under an expected LT-ROE of 8.0% and COE of 11.8%).

Highlights

- Asset quality: KTB reaffirmed that its asset quality was under control and still aligned with its guidance. Despite rising concerns in the housing segment (23%)—higher new NPL inflows from the below-THB3m segment—the bank explained that most customers were payroll and salary-based, not self-employed, and the main effects stemmed from a slower-than-expected economic recovery. Regarding personal loans, the overall quality was still manageable, with more than 90% of government officers paying by a payroll deduction. In addition, the new NPL formation in the SME segment was minimal thanks to its continual de-risking (11% of totals in 2Q24 from 16% in 2019). Moreover, the corporate loan quality also had no alarm, just the EA case, which was short-term loans where the exposure was not material. In the worst scenario, KTB insisted on managing the NPL ratio (<3.25%), credit cost (120-130bp), and coverage ratio (>170%) within its 2024 guidance.
- 2H24 outlook: KTB retained its 2024 guidance and had a positive outlook on its 2H24-loan momentum. The corporate and government-related segments would be critical to achieving its 3% y-y growth target, exceeding our 1.0% y-y.

Accordingly, the bank anticipated 2H24 NIM to be lower than 3.35% in 1H24 because of lower yields (more competition in private corporate loans) and higher cost of funds (a higher mix of term deposits). Overall, the 2024 NIM could finish within the mid-range of its 3.0-3.3% target and 3.28% of ours.

The 1H24 net fee income growth of 9.2% y-y was better than our low-to-mid single-digit assumption, with one critical driver from wealth-related fees. KTB expected a prolonged positive momentum in 2H24. However, non-NII would be vulnerable due to bad debt recovery, depending on pricing.

Operating expenses were manageable despite a continual IT investment, which was usual but not substantial. The 1H24 cost-to-income ratio of 42.6% aligned with its 2024 guidance of low-to-mid-40s. KTB also anticipated a lower impairment loss from properties for sale in 2H24 than THB5.40b in 1H24.

CENTRAL RETAIL CORP (CRC TB) - Slow SSSG with lack of short-term catalysts; Maintain BUY TP THB40.00

2Q24 core profit should edge up y-y

We anticipate a 2Q24 core profit of THB1.73b, dropping 31.5% q-q due to seasonal effects and the end of the E-receipt program but slightly increasing 0.7% y-y. The negative SSSG should persist at -2% due mainly to hardline, which should record a c8% lower SSS. Food SSS should ease by 0.5%, while fashion should increase by 2%. However, total sales growth should continue at c5% due to sales of new stores in tandem with the aggressive branch expansion of Thai Watsadu and Go wholesale recently.

GPM should be flat y-y, but SG&A should increase in line with expansion

We project a gross margin of 26.6%, jumping by 90bps q-q due to lower low-margin electrical appliance sales after the end of the E-receipt program but barely changing y-y. However, SG&A expenses should increase by 4% y-y in tandem with the branch expansion of Thai Watsadu and Go wholesale since CRC focused on expanding these two formats. Also, profit sharing from associates and joint ventures should decrease due to the absence of profit-sharing of Gucci.

Decrease 2024-26E core profit by 5-9% to reflect below-estimate SSSG

We have cut our 2024-26E core profit by 5-9%, resulting in a lower three-year average growth of 9% CAGR (from 12% CAGR). It reflected a slower-than-expected SSSG recovery and the SSS outlook in July with a persistent 1-3% loss assumption after a 1H24 negative SSSG of c0.5%. In the short term, CRC still lacks fresh catalysts. In particular, 3Q is a low season before a peak in 4Q.

Slash our TP to THB40

Similarly, we have cut our TP to THB40 to factor in the slower-than-expected SSSG recovery outlook. In the short term, CRC still lacks fresh catalysts. However, it has plunged -6.3% MTD probably to price in a disappointing performance recovery. It currently traded at 22x 2024E P/E, its five-year average -2SD

MEGA LIFESCIENCES (MEGA TB) - Another muted quarter in 2Q24E; Maintain BUY TP THB56.00

Another muted quarter

The overall economic conditions in several developing countries, MEGA's crucial markets, grew slowly during the last three months amid ongoing geopolitical tensions. The pharmaceutical industry's resilience helped boost MEGA's branded business revenue to increase steadily by 4.0% q-q, in our view. However, its distribution business should remain feeble due to the prolonged situation in Myanmar. From the traction of the business in Myanmar (c30% of MEGA's total revenue), we estimate MEGA's 2Q24 total revenue to plunge 2.5% y-y (but grew 4.3% q-q from a low base effect) to THB3.9b.

Expect 2Q24 core profit to grow slightly y-y

The blended gross margin should improve from 45.7% in 2Q23 to 46.8% in 2Q24 only because of a higher sale proportion of the high-margin branded business. We expect the SG&A expense to continue to rise due to higher marketing activities to boost sales and customer retention. Therefore, we project MEGA to report a core profit of THB575m in 2Q24 (-10.3% y-y but +16.4% q-q from a low base effect). The potential FX loss should weigh much less than in previous quarters as the Naira, Kyat, and Baht moved within narrow ranges. As a result, we expect a net profit of THB537m (+1.2% y-y, +12.5% q-q).

2H24 outlook should be gradual till Indonesia plant completes

Our projected revenue and core profit in 1H24 shows a loss of 1.2% y-y and 9.9% y-y, respectively. Our 1H24E core profit represents 44% of our full-year forecast, lower than the average of the past three years at 49%. The outlook in 2H24 for MEGA should be gradual until it completes its Indonesian manufacturing plant in 2025. The contribution from the Indonesian plant should be meaningful from 2026 onwards.

Maintain our BUY rating on cheap valuations

Despite low growth, MEGA has a solid balance sheet with a net cash position. The company retains its leading market position in Southeast Asia and Africa. We maintain our BUY rating on cheap valuations with the same TP of THB56 (DCF, 8.2% WACC, 3.5% LTG). MEGA share price traded at only 13.1x 2024E P/E and 9.2x 2024E EV/EBITDA.

Economic news

- New energy saving scheme set to be approved shortly BANGKOK POST: A plan to have the Metropolitan Electricity Authority (MEA) and Provincial Electricity Authority (PEA) help state agencies manage energy conservation projects under long-term contracts is expected to be approved by the government soon to speed up efforts to save energy in the state sector, says the Department of Alternative Energy Development and Efficiency. The approval will support campaigns among 800 state agencies nationwide which were instructed by the government to reduce energy usage by at least 20%, said Wattanapong Kurovat, director-general of the department.
- Global sell-off intensifies on signs of US weakness BANGKOK POST: RECAP: A global stock sell-off intensified yesterday as concerns grew over the health of the US economy and disappointing forecasts from major tech firms. Japanese shares plunged on expectations for more interest-rate hikes, further darkening the mood. The SET index moved in a range of 1,306.22 and 1,329.76 points this week, before closing yesterday at 1,313.08, up 0.4% from the previous week, with daily turnover averaging 38.19 billion baht. Brokerage firms were net buyers of 751.08 million baht, followed by foreign investors at 195.89 million. Institutional investors were net sellers of 492.63 million baht, followed by retail investors at 454.34 million.
- Thai PM Srettha allays concerns over Chinese retailer Temu BANGKOK POST: The Revenue Department and the Ministry of Digital Economy and Society (DES) have been instructed to ensure the new Chinese online retailer Temu complies with Thai laws and pays taxes, said Prime Minister Srettha Thavisin. His remarks come in response to concerns from local industry that Thai manufacturers may struggle against a flood of cheap products from China if government measures are not sufficient to address the entry of Temu. The Chinese e-commerce platform plans to attract customers with low-cost products by offering discounts of up to 90% on items sold on its platform. This has raised fears that it could hurt local small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). Asked what measures will be taken to protect local industries, Mr Srettha said every company doing business in Thailand must fulfil its tax obligations and state agencies must ensure compliance.
- Credit card minimum payment to stay at 8% until end-2025 BANGKOK POST: The Bank of Thailand will keep the minimum monthly payment rate on credit cards at 8% for another year, to the end of 2025, to help reduce the burden of debt repayment, especially for vulnerable groups. The minimum payment was earlier scheduled to return to the normal rate of 10% of the outstanding balance in January 2025, the central bank said. The 10% minimum was originally reduced to 5% during the Covid-19 pandemic in order to help the many people who were in financial difficulty at the time. It was subsequently raised to 8% at the start of this year. The change was among measures approved by central bank's Financial Institutions Policy Committee, which "saw that there are still vulnerable debtors who need additional assistance because their income has not fully recovered", deputy governor Ronadol Numnonda said in a statement.
- Fuel consumption declines by 0.05% BANGKOK POST: Total fuel consumption dropped by 0.05% year-on-year to 156.6 million litres per day (MLD) during the first half of 2024, consistent with the country's economic growth, says the Department of Energy Business. The Bank of Thailand's Monetary Policy Committee said earlier that second-quarter GDP was projected to expand by 1% from three months earlier, down from 1.5% growth recorded in the first quarter. From January to June, the usage of diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) increased while consumption of gasoline and gasohol, a mix of gasoline and ethanol, compressed natural gas (CNG) and fuel oil dropped, said Sarawut Kaewtathip, chief of the Department of Energy Business.
- Online retailers set to hike sales fees BANGKOK POST: Shopee, Lazada and TikTok are expected to continue to increase sales transaction fees to grow revenue, which raise costs for local merchants. TikTok Shop announced two fee increases this year. In April, it changed from a flat 4% fee for all product categories to a range of 4-5.35%, depending on the category. A further increase is planned, raising commission fees by roughly 1% per category, which will take effect in September 2024. The sales transaction fee for fashion items will rise from 4-4.28% to 4-5.35%, while fees for fast-moving consumer goods and lifestyle items will increase from 4.28% to 5.35%. The fee for electronics items will remain at 4.28%. So far this year, the three major e-commerce platforms in Thailand have raised their fees at least twice, and two of them raised their fees at almost the same time.

Corporate news

- Property Perfect to launch lone project BANGKOK POST: SET-listed developer Property Perfect has scaled back its new project launches this year from seven projects worth 7.7 billion baht to just one -- the lowest number it has recorded in over 20 years -- to minimise risk amid reduced purchasing power and financial challenges. Managing director Wongsakorn Prasitvipat said launching new projects amid very weak demand could result in unnecessary costs without generating any income. Instead, the company would focus on its existing ongoing projects.
- Developers look to shareholders for loans BANGKOK POST: Listed residential developers have sought to retain and raise cash by avoiding new costs, borrowing short-term loans from major shareholders, and selling assets to mitigate risks amid difficulties in the financial market and limited mortgage loan approvals. Kessara Thanyalakpark, managing director of SET-listed developer Sena Development, said the residential market situation is very poor. Although units were sold, transfers could not be completed as homebuyers were facing mortgage loan rejections.

- EA eyes bond repayment delays amid fraud claims BANGKOK POST: Shares of Energy Absolute (EA) sank yesterday after the listed renewable energy company said it would seek the approval of its bondholders to delay payment on two bond tranches worth 5.5 billion baht, signalling that the company's financial woes, caused by the alleged fraud involving two executives, are getting worse. In a filing to the Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET), director Wutthilerd Chiannilkulchai said EA would ask the bondholders at a meeting on Aug 9 to approve an extension of the maturity date of the EA248A bond, worth 1.5 billion baht, for another 10 months and 15 days. The company will propose paying a 5% coupon on the debt, from 3.11%, for the delay. The company will also ask bondholders to approve the nine-month delay of its green bond EA249A, worth 4 billion baht and due Sept 29. It will also raise the coupon to 5%, increasing the interest rate by 1.8% per annum from the original fixed rate of 3.2%, Mr Wutthilerd added.
- Maguro poised for aggressive expansion BANGKOK POST: Amid the growing popularity of Japanese food in Thailand, the MAGURO restaurant brand has managed to place itself in the minds of Thai diners, with aggressive expansion on the cards this year and next. Under the Maguro Group, which floated its shares on the Market for Alternative Investment (MAI) in early June, are three brands of Asian restaurants with a total of 31 branches in Bangkok and its vicinity. Currently, the group operates 16 MAGURO Japanese restaurant and sushi bars, six SSAMTHING TOGETHER premium Korean barbecue restaurants, eight HITORI SHABU authentic Japanese-style shabu and sukiyaki restaurants, along with a branch of its HITORI SUKIYAKI sub brand, which offers an authentic Japanese sukiyaki course. The group plans to launch and operate 13 other branches within this year, surpassing the 11 new outlets envisaged in the group's original plan. The total number of restaurants operated by the group ought to reach 38 by year-end, said chief executive Eakkalurk Sangsareedumrong.
