SYNNEX (THAILAND) (SYNEX TB) - Prolonged robust growth despite GPM pressure; Maintain BUY TP THB15.00

A neutral view on the meeting, target 13% sales growth

We have a neutral view of the meeting on 5 Mar. SYNEX set a 2025 sales target of THB47.3b (+12.8% y-y), aligning closely with our estimate (+12%). Potential drivers behind this growth include Apple and Smartphone & Wearable, benefiting from new product launches and expanded sales channels, including Honor, Huawei, and Samsung. The Gaming segment should see growth from Nintendo, while Commercial & Enterprise Solutions would expand through Network Security and its role as an AWS distributor. Additionally, IT Consumer could recover following Microsoft ending its support for Windows 10 by 14 Oct 2025 and the anticipated launch of Windows 12.

4Q24 core profit misses due to ECL despite record-high revenue

The 4Q24 core profit of THB116m (-15% y-y) missed our estimate due to increased provisions, leading to a 53% y-y increase in SG&A expenses and SG&A to sales of 2.9% (+60bps y-y). Despite 22% y-y revenue growth, reaching a record-high THB11.6b (+22% y-y), and a stable 4.0% gross margin, the profit saw pressure from higher SG&A. In 2024, SYNEX achieved record-high revenue of THB41.9b (+15% y-y), mainly from Apple, Smartphone & Wearable, and Commercial & Enterprise Solutions, resulting in a core profit of THB511m (+18% y-y).

Cut earnings forecast as challenges loom

We slashed our 2025-26E earnings forecast by 12% due to more anticipated challenges around the gross margin. Apple remains the product champion but carries a low margin. However, SYNEX is working to offset this by focusing on high-margin products, such as IT Secured Network and Cloud solutions as an AWS authorized distributor. Hence, we expect a 2025 core profit of THB635m (+24% y-y), with revenue expected to reach an all-time high of THB47b (+12% y-y) and control measures put in place for employee and warehouse expenses.

Maintain BUY rating at a lower TP of THB15/shr

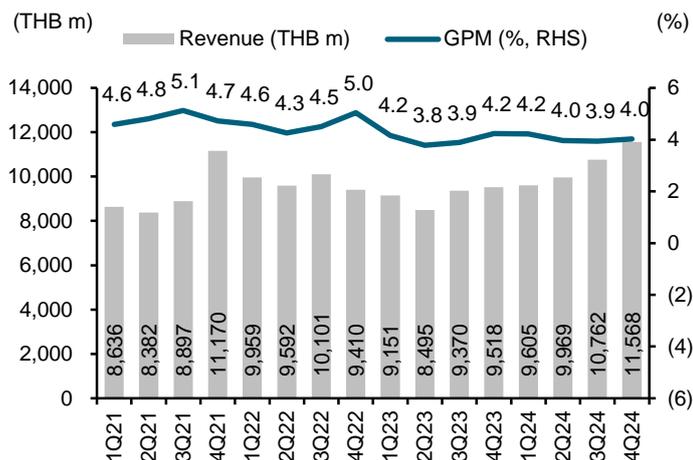

We maintain our BUY rating despite a lower target price of THB15/shr (20x P/E target). In the short run, SYNEX remains on track, with sales growth of c10% in the first two months of 2025, driven by Phones, Gaming, and Commercial after commercial project inflows gaining momentum. Management was confident that 4Q24 provisions for doubtful accounts were sufficient.

SAPPE (SAPPE TB) - Entering a downtrend in 2025; Downgrade to HOLD TP THB40.00

Management cut revenue growth target for 2025

We have a negative outlook from the analyst meeting. Management unexpectedly revised its 2025 revenue target down to 5% y-y from 15-20% y-y. The regional revenue targets are as follows: EU -10% y-y, Asia +5% y-y, America +10% y-y, Middle East and other +10% y-y, and domestic +15% y-y. The three countries facing the most significant issues are the UK, France, and South Korea, while Indonesia remains flat despite its resolving distributor issue. This has led to the postponement of its new factory expansion plan to 1Q26 from mid-2025.

The destocking in the EU has not yet ended

The UK and France are facing issues with retail sales, both in terms of the quality of sales and their inability to increase modern trade channels as planned. This has resulted in overstock problems and destocking starting from 3Q24 and continuing to the present. Management guided that 1Q25 orders would decline further from 4Q24. They anticipated that destocking may end by 2Q25, with recovery expected in 3Q25. We think it could be due to the sluggish European economy or the failure to adjust strategies successfully. Meanwhile, South Korea continues to struggle with purchasing power and high competition.

The profit outlook remains weak in 1H25

Preliminary, we expect a 1Q25 net profit of THB200m (+6% q-q, -43% y-y). However, overall revenue may not improve as the EU has not yet recovered, and the Middle East may drop q-q after a strong recovery due to stock issues in 4Q24. If EU's 1Q25 revenue weakens q-q as expected, there is a possibility that full-year revenue will slow more than the company's target. Therefore, we have decreased our 2025E net profit to drop by 21% y-y to THB995m.

De-rate valuation to reflect higher volatility

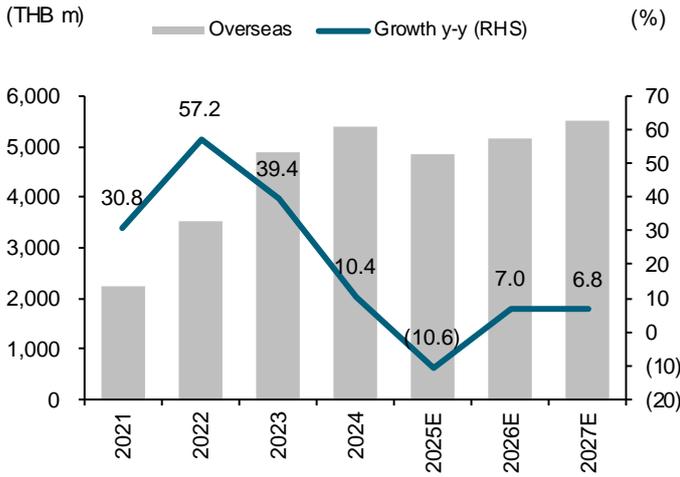

We cut our TP to THB40, reducing the PE ratio to 12.5x (-1 SD), the lowest target PE in the beverage sector. This is because, in addition to an expected profit slowdown this year, orders are becoming more volatile. Around 80% of revenue comes from exports, which are impacted by the global economic downturn and weather conditions. Aside from that, there are limited leading indicators to forecast future performance. As a result, we have downgraded the valuation. We recommend avoiding investments until we see signs of a recovery in orders.

OSOTSPA (OSP TB) - Key takeaways from analyst meeting; Maintain BUY TP THB24.00

Highlights

- Management targets 2025 total revenue growth of 5-8% y-y. Potential key drivers are 1) personal care growing at a double-digit rate; 2) overseas double-digit growth rate; and 3) domestic beverages growth target of 5% y-y.
- For domestic energy drinks, OSP aims for 3-5% y-y growth, with a target to increase its market share by 2-5% by the end of 2025, up from 45.8% at the end of 2024. The market share target for its THB10 product is to double from 10% in 2024, while the market share for its THB12 product may slightly decline from 35% in 2024.
- They provided that 1QTD domestic energy drink revenue (sales in) was slightly down y-y due to stock management, but sales out at stores were still growing well. However, there has been some cannibalization, especially with the M150-blue (THB10) and the M150-gold cap (THB12) destocking. Overall, the situation is still going according to plan, with its market share in January improving by 20bps m-m.
- Currently, OSP has fully distributed yellow-cap M150 (THB10) to major agents (100%) and more than 50% to smaller retail stores. By the end of March, the distribution is expected to exceed 80%.
- The company targets a stable gross margin for 2025 at 37.3%, even though they have locked in raw material prices at a lower cost. The margin will see pressure from its product mix. They also target 2025 SG&A to sales to be stable at 24%, close to 2024 (extra items excluded).

Comments

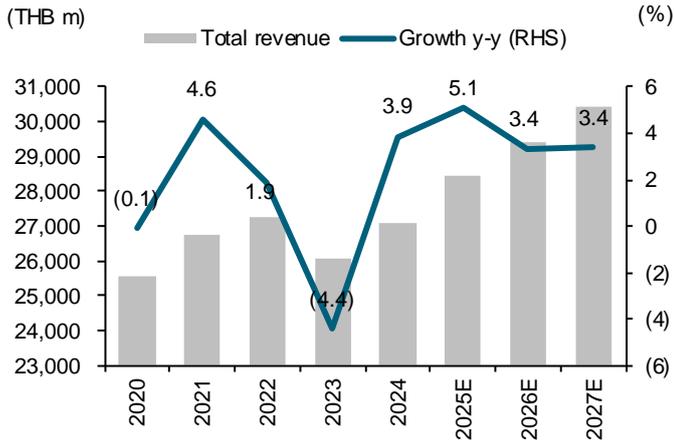

- In the short term, we expect 1Q25 net profit to grow q-q and slightly decline y-y. Although domestic energy drink revenue may weaken y-y, other businesses are performing well, especially overseas, entering a high season. Also, personal care would continue to grow y-y.
- So far, both the strategy and figures are relatively stable. However, we still need to monitor its market share and profit trends.
- We have a more positive view of the domestic energy drink target, which is not overly aggressive. The revenue growth target is modest, while the gross margin should decrease because its THB10 product has a lower margin than THB12. However, the gross profit in absolute terms may still grow.
- The significant drop in its share price reflects concerns that the 2025 strategy may not succeed as expected. While we still need to monitor results, the share price is trading at a PE of 16x, which looks attractive for long-term investment.

Key takeaways from Analyst Meeting

CHG - Key takeaways from 4Q24 meeting

- We attended analyst meeting and have neutral view from the meeting.
- Management guided that revenue from general patients recovered and grew by mid single digit y-y in Jan-Feb (vs flat y-y in 4Q24). However, SSO revenue likely to slightly declined y-y due to absence of Morbid obesity cases following changing reimbursement policy since Nov-24
- CHG has about 1,000 Morbid Obesity patient cases under SSO scheme in 2024 and about 600-700 cases for self-pay patients. We estimate CHG can reimburse from SSO cTHB100k per case (vs 300k for self-pay patients). Thus, we estimate SSO revenue from Morbid Obesity should significantly decline from cTHB100m in 2024 given that SSO's patients must undergo alternative treatments for approximately 6 months before undergoing surgery, and pre-authorization from the SSO is also required. CHG mentioned that some SSO patient choose to pay in cash, rather than waiting for SSO approval.
- Management expect revenue to grow by double digit in 2025 with NPM higher than 13.5% (vs 12% in 2024). This would imply at least cTHB1.22b profit in 2025 (+27% y-y)
- CHG Mae Sot loss was THB17m in 4Q24, relatively flat y-y. Total 2024 loss was cTHB80m and management expect it to reach breakeven in 2025 (turn profitable in 2H25)

Recommendation

- Share price has fallen by 9% since 4Q24 result announcement. Although earnings still have a potential to decline y-y in 1Q25. We suggest investors keep CHG on the radar given that 2Q24 and 4Q24 weak earnings creates a favorable base for potential growth in full year 2025
- CHG is trading at cheap valuation of 21x 2025E P/E.

Economic news

- Higher food prices push February inflation up 1.08% BANGKOK POST: Headline inflation in Thailand rose by 1.08% year-on-year in February, fuelled by price increases for food, especially fresh fruit, food ingredients and ready-to-eat meals as well as non-alcoholic beverages. The consumer price index (CPI) for February was 100.55, rising from 99.48 a year earlier, said Poonpong Naiyanapakorn, director-general of the Trade Policy and Strategy Office at the Ministry of Commerce. Prices in the food and non-alcoholic beverage category rose 2% year-on-year, primarily driven by fresh fruit, ready-to-eat meals, non-alcoholic beverages, food ingredients, flour-based products and egg and milk products. Prices in non-food and beverage categories increased by 0.4% year-on-year, mainly due to higher fuel prices, electricity, housing rent and international airfares. Mr Poonpong said core inflation, which excludes fresh food and energy prices, increased by 1% year-on-year in February, accelerating from 0.83% in January.
- Looming US tariffs a threat to industry BANGKOK POST: The sluggish Thai automotive industry may worsen if US President Donald Trump pushes ahead with his plan to impose tariffs on car imports, says the Federation of Thai Industries (FTI). Trump announced last month he would impose a 25% auto tariff on April 2, but the levy on shipments from Canada and Mexico is now paused for one month after the tax took effect on March 4. The decision pleased some US car companies that have factories in neighbouring countries. Yet auto manufacturers in Thailand remain worried over Washington's trade policy as Thailand is ranked 16th in passenger car exports to the US and 11th in commercial motor vehicle (CMV) shipments, according to the FTI. "We are afraid Trump's tariff policy will cause a slowdown in the passenger car and CMV segments," said Kriengkrai Thiennukul, chairman of the FTI.
- Revenue collection for first 5 months surpasses target BANGKOK POST: The Revenue Department's collection of revenue for the first five months of fiscal 2025 exceeded its target. According to Pinsai Suraswadi, director-general of the department, cumulative revenue collection for October 2024 to February 2025 amounted to 795 billion baht, an increase of 3.8% or 29.2 billion baht year-on-year, which exceeded the target by 8.67 billion baht or 1.1%. For February, the department collected 149 billion baht, up 4% year-on-year, exceeding the target by 0.7%. The main driver of revenue collection remained the value-added tax on domestic consumption, which gained 7.8% year-on-year. Another contributing factor was personal income tax, which exceeded the previous year's figure by 7.9%, driven by withholding tax remittances and the filing of personal income tax returns.
- Trump tariff confusion hurts share sentiment BANGKOK POST: Asian stocks followed US equities lower as continual shifts in US President Donald Trump's approach to tariffs on trade partners whipped up market uncertainty and dented confidence in the economic outlook. Thai shares traded below 1,200 points for most of the week, pressured by tariff uncertainties, Thailand's stalled economic growth and weaker than expected corporate earnings. The SET index moved in a range of 1,173.13 and 1,211.21 points this week, before closing yesterday at 1,202.03, down 0.1% from the previous week, with daily turnover averaging 42.04 billion baht. Retail investors were net buyers of 7.12 billion baht, followed by institutional investors at 1.84 billion. Foreign investors were net sellers of 5.7 billion baht, followed by brokerage firms at 3.18 billion.

Corporate news

- BAFS fuel sales to rise 8% this year BANGKOK POST: SET-listed Bangkok Aviation Fuel Services (BAFS) expects its fuel sales to increase by 8% this year to 5.4 billion litres, driven by growing tourism and better airport facilities. The upbeat outlook should increase revenue by 8% to 3.8 billion baht, up from 3.5 billion last year, said ML Nathasit Diskul, president of BAFS. He attributed the uptick to more international flights arriving in Thailand, with foreign tourist arrivals projected to reach 88% of the 2019 tally. More than 35 million people visited Thailand in 2024, spending more than 1.6 trillion baht, according to the Tourism and Sports Ministry. The Tourism Authority of Thailand set a 2025 target of 40 million foreign arrivals.
- Airfares in Thailand likely to remain pricey BANGKOK POST: Airfares are expected to remain high this year based on rising operating costs and supply chain disruptions, similar to last year when higher fares drove the revenue of major airlines operating in Thailand. Santisuk Klongchaiya, chief executive of Asia Aviation, the majority shareholder of Thai AirAsia, said higher airfares were the main contributor to an improving financial performance in 2024, with the airline securing 49.4 billion baht in revenue from sales and services, up 20% year-on-year. According to the airline's report, rising costs from airport charges and ground handling fees would continue to affect airfares this year, along with high travel demand. The aviation industry's supply chain disruption is expected to persist, resulting in stable airfares or an increase of no more than 10%. Last year the average airfare on Thai AirAsia increased by 10% year-on-year to 1,967 baht, surpassing the 2019 level by 33%. The airline recorded its first positive core operating profit since the pandemic, earning more than 3 billion baht in 2024. Thai AirAsia carried 20.8 million passengers with an average load factor of 91%, earning a 40% share of the domestic market. Mr Santisuk said the airline targets 23-24 million passengers this year with a 90% load factor. Thai AirAsia projects 15% growth in revenue from sales and services, driven by fleet expansion and a favourable fare outlook. Meanwhile, Bangkok Airways reported revenue of 26 billion baht last year, up 19.8% year-on-year, mostly driven by airline business. Its average airfare soared by 11.5% to 4,189 baht in 2024.

- Plan to transfer state-run airports to Airports of Thailand scrapped BANGKOK POST: The Ministry of Transport has made a U-turn on an earlier decision to hand over all state-run airports across the country to the Airports of Thailand Plc. Deputy Transport Minister Manaporn Chroensri said in a recent exclusive interview with Daily News that the Department of Airports, which is under her supervision, decided to keep local airports with the agency, instead of transferring them in phases to AoT. A department official on Friday confirmed to the Bangkok Post the statement attributed to the deputy minister the day before. The move is a complete reversal of a policy that called for AoT to ultimately take full control of 28 out of 29 airports now under the administration of the department. The transfer was to start with airports in Krabi, Udon Thani and Buri Ram. The government led by then-prime minister Prayut Chan-o-cha agreed in principle on the change at a cabinet meeting on Aug 30, 2023. Mae Sot airport in Tak province was not on the transfer list. The Transport Ministry at the time was controlled by the Bhumjaithai Party but it is now overseen by the Pheu Thai Party. Ms Manaporn said keeping all provincial airports under full state control would benefit the country as they could promote the local economy and tourism. But the department needed to seek better ways to develop them to ensure they could stand on their own feet financially rather than relying on aid from taxpayers.
- SET demands reforms amid sell-off BANGKOK POST: The Stock Exchange of Thailand (SET) has asked the Finance Ministry to issue a royal decree to enhance tax benefits for long-term investments and strengthen the Securities and Exchange Act enforcement powers in order to revive investor confidence. Sentiment on the Thai bourse is weak, with investors selling shares since the year began. Thailand's economic growth has stalled, while listed firms posted weaker earnings than expected, leading to a 13% decline in the SET index year-to-date. Thailand is perceived as an "old economy", making it less attractive for investment, SET chairman Kitipong Urapeepatanapong said on Friday. To restore investor confidence, the bourse proposed an action plan to the Finance Ministry recently. An omnibus law is planned for the capital market, with comprehensive legal reforms and the introduction of dual-class shares, increased flexibility in corporate structuring and mergers and acquisitions, and amendment of the Securities and Exchange Act, the Civil and Commercial Code, the Board of Investment (BoI) law, and the Public Company Act. The SET also proposed the "Jump Plus" initiative aimed at supporting high-potential listed companies seeking to increase their value by providing them with tax benefits, financial statement analysis and training programmes. The bourse wants to collaborate with the BoI to support new economy stocks, allowing subsidiaries to spin off and list on the Thai exchange if they invest in Thailand and qualify for BoI incentives, said Mr Kitipong.
