CENTRAL PLAZA HOTEL (CENTEL TB) - Recovery expected, cautious forecasts; Maintain BUY TP THB43.00

Dubai operations weaken on regional tensions

Middle East tension have impacted CENTEL's 607-room JV hotel in Dubai (40% stake). Room cancellations reduced on-the-book OCC for Mar-2026 to below 30%, versus above 80% in Jan-Feb, and the 2Q26 outlook is likely to remain soft. We lower our 2026 assumptions for the Dubai hotel to 65% OCC (from 85%) and -27% y-y RevPAR (from +4%). As a result, we cut our equity income forecast by 18% to THB300m, though this still implies 23% y-y growth, supported by the recognition of Lucky Suki's operation from 1Q26.

Thailand and Maldives impact manageable

The Middle East and Europe accounted for 11% and 32% of CENTEL's hotel guest mix, or c5% and c15% of total group revenue. We expect the impact of Middle East flight disruptions on properties in Thailand and the Maldives would be partially offset by a recovery in Chinese tourists and a strategic shift toward short-haul source markets, while European demand enters its low season in 2Q26. We believe CENTEL's two new hotels in the Maldives are ramping up from a low base last year, with on-the-book OCC at 50% for Mar 2026 (4Q25: 43%), which should narrow losses.

Forecasts trimmed, core business still conservative

We make only a modest reduction to our forecasts, primarily reflecting weaker contributions from the Dubai JV. Earnings should grow 6% in 2026 and accelerate to 11% in 2027. Our assumptions for both the hotel and food segments remain more conservative than the company's 2026 guidance (75-78% OCC, 14-15% hotel revenue growth, 3-5% SSSG, and 12-14% TSSG). While potential food cost increases may challenge margins, we expect the company to mitigate the effect through cost control and promotional initiatives. For Jan-Feb 2026, hotel RevPAR grew 8-9% y-y, driven by both OCC and ADR, while food SSSG and TSSG rose c1-2%. We expect 1Q26 core profit to grow y-y, but decline slightly q-q due to the March impact.

Maintain BUY and TP on recovery outlook

We maintain our DCF-based TP of THB43, implying 29x 2026E P/E (in line with the historical mean), versus the current 22x (-1.0SD). We continue to see a recovery in Thai tourism, driven by a low base of Chinese tourists last year and a gradual improvement in air travel, supporting a more positive outlook. Meanwhile, higher equity income from Lucky Suki should also act as a catalyst for CENTEL.

TMBTHANACHART BANK (TTB TB) - 1Q26E profit weaken; PPOP remains strong; Maintain HOLD TP THB2.40

1Q26E profit down; PPOP resilient despite weaker income

We expect 1Q26 net profit of THB5.16b, down 1.6% q-q but still up 1.1% y-y, accounting for 25% of our 2026 net profit forecast, dragged by weaker income from both NII and non-NII, and higher credit costs due to management overlay. We expect PPOP at THB8.76b, up 1.0% q-q but still down 7.4% y-y, as lower operating expenses after the seasonal peak brings the cost-to-income ratio down to 45.8% and partly offsets the decline in NII. We expect NII to decrease in line with loan contraction of 1.9% q-q and 2.4% y-y, mainly from repayments by large corporate clients, particularly short-term working capital loans, while auto hire-purchase loans remain soft, keeping loan growth below our full-year 2026 target of +1.0% y-y. We expect NIM to edge down by around 2bps q-q as earnings asset yields decline faster than the cost of funds, while net fee income should also contract after the seasonal peak, especially in the credit card segment following strong performance in 4Q25.

Asset quality stable; credit costs accelerate

Overall asset quality remains largely unchanged from 4Q25, with gross NPLs expected to stay broadly stable q-q, while the NPL ratio rises to 3.30% due to a contracting loan base. However, we expect credit costs to increase to 131bps (+10bps q-q), in line with the bank's 2026 guidance of 130–135bps and our full-year 2026 forecast of 135bps, driven by expected management overlay provisions in 1Q26 amid heightened economic uncertainty from oil price volatility, which may persist.

2026–28E earnings to decline on higher tax burden from 2027

We expect 2026–28 net profit to decline at a 4.6% CAGR as the remaining tax benefits of THB5.7b at the end of 2025 run out from mid-2027. However, we expect EPS to grow by 1.0% CAGR over the same period, as we already factor in the positive impact from TTB's 18% share buyback over 2025–28E in our forecasts. We project modest loan growth of c1.0–2.0% p.a., with NIM remaining broadly stable from 2025 levels. We expect credit costs to stay at the upper end of the bank's target range at 135bps in 2026.

Maintain HOLD; 2026 TP at THB2.40

We maintain our HOLD recommendation on TTB for its dividend yield of c.6% p.a. We derive our 2026 target price of THB2.40 from a GGM-implied PBV of 0.9x, based on LT-ROE of 8.0% and COE of 8.8%.

Economic news

- Ethanol output cranked up to meet E20 demand BANGKOK POST: Ethanol manufacturers are increasing production to serve growing demand for gasohol E20, aligning with the government's efforts to reduce Thailand's reliance on oil imports. Gasohol E20, a mix of gasoline and 20% ethanol, is being promoted by the government as a primary fuel to deal with a surge in global oil prices and shipping constraints via the Strait of Hormuz during the Israeli-US war on Iran. "In a period of high global crude oil volatility, E20 will help balance retail prices at service stations," said Kittisak Wattanavekin, honorary president of the Thai Ethanol Manufacturing Association. Energy officials aim to encourage wider use of E20 by keeping its price lower than gasohol 91 and 95, which contain only 10% ethanol. Caretaker energy minister Auttapol Rerkpiboon said the government wants to widen the price gap to around 5 baht per litre to accelerate adoption. E20 is cheaper than both gasohol 91 and 95, but officials believe a larger difference will make it more attractive to motorists. Ethanol consumption in Thailand is roughly 3.5 million litres per day, while total gasoline consumption exceeds 30 million litres per day, according to the association. If E20 is actively promoted as the primary fuel, ethanol demand is expected to rise to more than 6 million litres per day, significantly reducing oil imports, noted the group.
- Insurers look to manage risk from Middle East conflict BANGKOK POST: Insurance companies have taken steps to cautiously manage their risk exposure amid intensifying conflicts in the Middle East, which has resulted in the cost of war insurance coverage for ships in the Gulf region to reach "unprecedented levels". Guillaume Mirabaud, chief executive of AXA Insurance Thailand, said the company has committed to supporting clients with empathy and professionalism during these difficult circumstances affecting parts of the Middle East. "At the same time, we have a responsibility to continuously monitor and manage our risk exposure," he told the Bangkok Post. "AXA is applying heightened vigilance to underwriting of new policies or renewal of business in the region. Our goal is not to limit our service to customers, but to ensure we can continue providing sustainable coverage in a rapidly changing environment." According to Fertmax, a freight logistics operator, the cost of war insurance coverage for ships in the Gulf region is at unprecedented levels given the threats in the Strait of Hormuz and additional premiums for ships going around areas of Oman and the Red Sea.
- Energy woes dent Songkran travel sentiment BANGKOK POST: Tourism operators are increasingly concerned about declining energy confidence, fearing it could dampen their high expectations for the upcoming Songkran holiday. Wasuchet Sophonsathien, adviser to the Thai Transportation Operators Association, said that in the short term rising fuel prices could affect next month's Songkran holiday. Some tourists have already booked cross-provincial trips, but many have yet to decide, as they are monitoring fuel prices until they feel more confident. He said some operators might hesitate to launch new tour packages, as they are uncertain how much fuel prices will rise, potentially squeezing their margins. The association is planning to discuss Songkran strategies with partners such as the Thai Hotels Association and the Association of Thai Travel Agents to prevent a dip in the tourism market. Nattharin Pongvittayapanu, president of the Kanchanaburi Chamber of Commerce, said tourism during Songkran in Kanchanaburi this year could be weaker. In addition to higher fuel prices, rising living costs and lower savings are prompting people to cut back on their recreational trips.
- Baht may fall to 35 per dollar if war persists BANGKOK POST: The baht is expected to weaken to 34-35 to the US dollar if the Middle East conflict drags on for two months, pushing oil prices above US$100 per barrel, according to Kasikorn Research Center (K-Research). K-Research views a prolonged two-month conflict as the most likely scenario. Under this outlook, global crude oil prices would rise beyond $100 per barrel, putting downward pressure on the baht and increasing currency volatility, said Burin Adulwattana, the centre's chief economist. According to Mr Burin, the conflict has already had a significant impact on the baht against the dollar, both in terms of volatility and depreciation. Year-to-date, the baht has fluctuated by around 9%, up from a range of 7.5-8% throughout last year. The baht has depreciated by about 4% against the dollar, making it the region's second-weakest currency after the South Korean won. Amid heightened risks and uncertainties, he said Thai GDP growth could dip by around 0.5 percentage points in the most likely scenario. K-Research said war in the Middle East has driven a sharp surge in energy prices, particularly following the closure of shipping routes through the Strait of Hormuz.
- Consumer goods prices to rise soon as production costs soar BANGKOK POST: Major consumer product manufacturers and distributors are warning customers of possible price increases in April due to the Middle East war disrupting the oil supply chain. In letters to customers, companies cited the war's impact on the oil-related supply chain, resulting in difficulty sourcing raw materials, decreased packaging availability and rising prices, higher transport costs, and delivery delays. The companies expect supply chain disruptions to drive up product prices from April, and advised customers to consider replenishing their inventories at appropriate levels. Unilever Thai Trading Co Ltd, a distributor of consumer goods, said higher raw material and logistics costs have directly increased production costs across all categories. The company expects the effects to begin in April and said it could not predict when they would end. To help customers manage inventories before cost increases, the company is ramping up production across all product categories and increasing its safety stock in March. Saha Pathanapibul Plc, a major producer and distributor of consumer goods such as Mama instant noodles, said it is facing production and delivery limitations due to sourcing challenges for raw materials and packaging, along with rising transport expenses. Product availability is below normal and delivery delays are expected, the company said. The noodle maker advised customers to stock up and be prepared for disruptions. Berli Jucker Plc, a distributor of consumer goods and food and beverages, is working to secure raw materials and maintain sufficient stock for the market. The company expects price changes in April. Moreover, F&N Dairies (Thailand) Ltd, a producer of dairy products under brands such as Carnation and Magnolia, is working with suppliers to secure contracts and increase material inventories for production. The company will maintain its current prices for as long as possible, but a prolonged war may eventually force price increases.

- Penalties vowed for gas gouging BANGKOK POST: Caretaker energy minister Auttapol Rerkpiboon has vowed to take action against petrol station operators who charge prices that exceed government-regulated, subsidised levels, while pledging to intensify efforts to ensure smooth oil distribution nationwide. He told the public yesterday they will be able to buy oil at affordable prices, and the nation will have sufficient fuel for transport and business. "Officials found oil retailers in some areas sell fuel at high prices, claiming they do not receive subsidies from the government," said Mr Auttapol. "I want to confirm that every litre of fuel leaving an oil refinery for domestic sales receives subsidies from the state Oil Fuel Fund." The government is spending money from the fund to subsidise domestic fuel prices, gradually increasing them to avoid a financial burden for businesses and households. The pump price of diesel, previously capped at 30 baht a litre, increased by 0.5 baht on March 18 and will continue to rise gradually to 33 baht to reduce the subsidy burden, said officials. The price of gasohol 95 has increased by 1 baht a litre. With the subsidies already implemented, Mr Auttapol said retailers who sell oil at prices above the regulated levels will be punished.

- Noble keen to maintain its asset-light strategy BANGKOK POST: SET-listed Noble Development plans to maintain its asset-light strategy by seeking partners for joint ventures in new projects and investors to purchase rental condo units, a business it launched late last year. Sira Udol, chief operating officer, said bringing in partners helps prevent the company's capital from being tied up in any single year and allows investment to proceed more smoothly. "We regularly discuss potential joint ventures in upcoming projects with our existing partners," he said. "This helps strengthen growth and create synergy in both financial and management aspects and diversify risks." Noble has five partners -- BTS Group Holdings; Saha Group; Thanulux, a joint venture between BTS and Saha; Hong Kong-based investment group Hongkong Land; and contractor Stecon Group -- in joint ventures covering 11 projects worth a combined 47.3 billion baht. Last year Noble recognised a gain of 925 million baht from the disposal of its investment in the 14-billion-baht off-plan condo project Nue Epic Asok-Rama 9 to a joint venture firm with Stecon Group in the third quarter. The gain helped the company record a net profit of 593 million baht in 2025, up 37% from 2024, while its net interest-bearing debt-to-equity ratio declined significantly to 1.71 times from 2.15 times.
